Cafeteria

Would you buy a bag lunch from this man?

That's Italian!

Boy, that was a great meal!

With eight you get eggroll.

I can't believe he ate the whole thing!

Alka Seltzer, Alka Seltzer, Alka Seltzer.

Look, they're on their 11th bag!

Al Zack's, here we come.

Kill it, it's alive!

Too many cooks spoil the broth.

Don't step on my sandwich!

Beauty on parade!

I'll have a double!

He's soooo cute!

One from column A, two from column B...

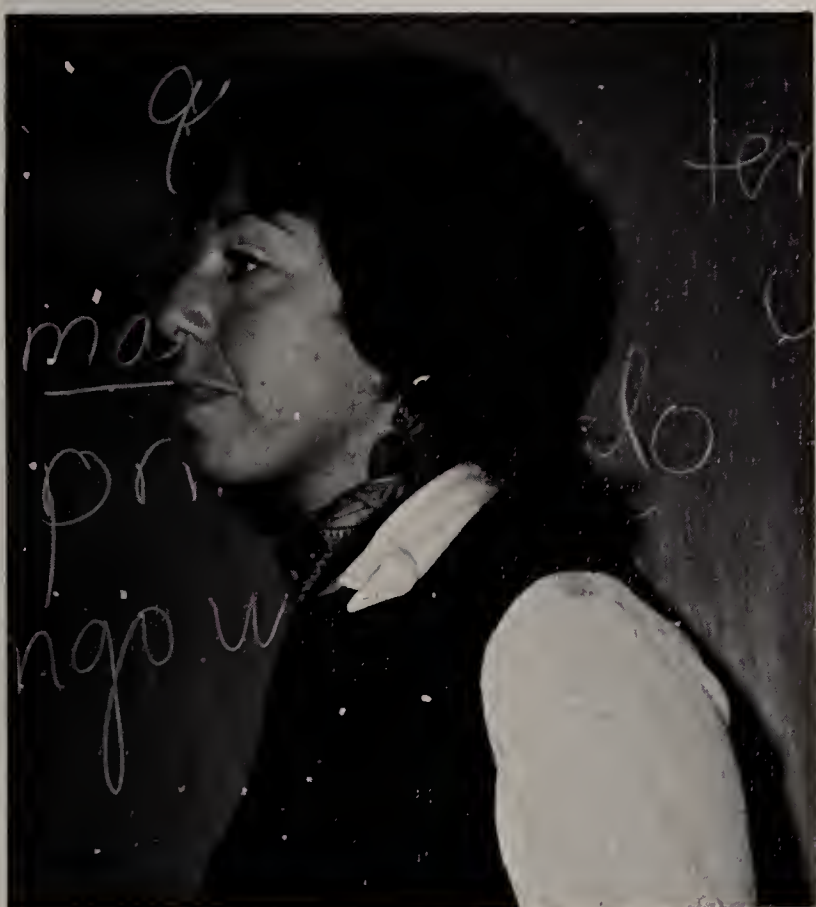

"Someone's in the kitchen with Dinah..."

He's soooo cute!

One from column A, two from column B...

"Someone's in the kitchen with Dinah..."

Is it soup yet?

Weeeooo, how Chelsea High School prices have changed!

Vanilla, chocolate, or boysenberry?

The canned dog food without the can.

I think I broke my tooth!

Café Chelsea.

And I thought the draft was over!

Reading is such fun!

Another day, another assignment.

Hey, that answer's better than the one in the book!

Mooooooooo!

Come into my parlor, said the spider to the fly.

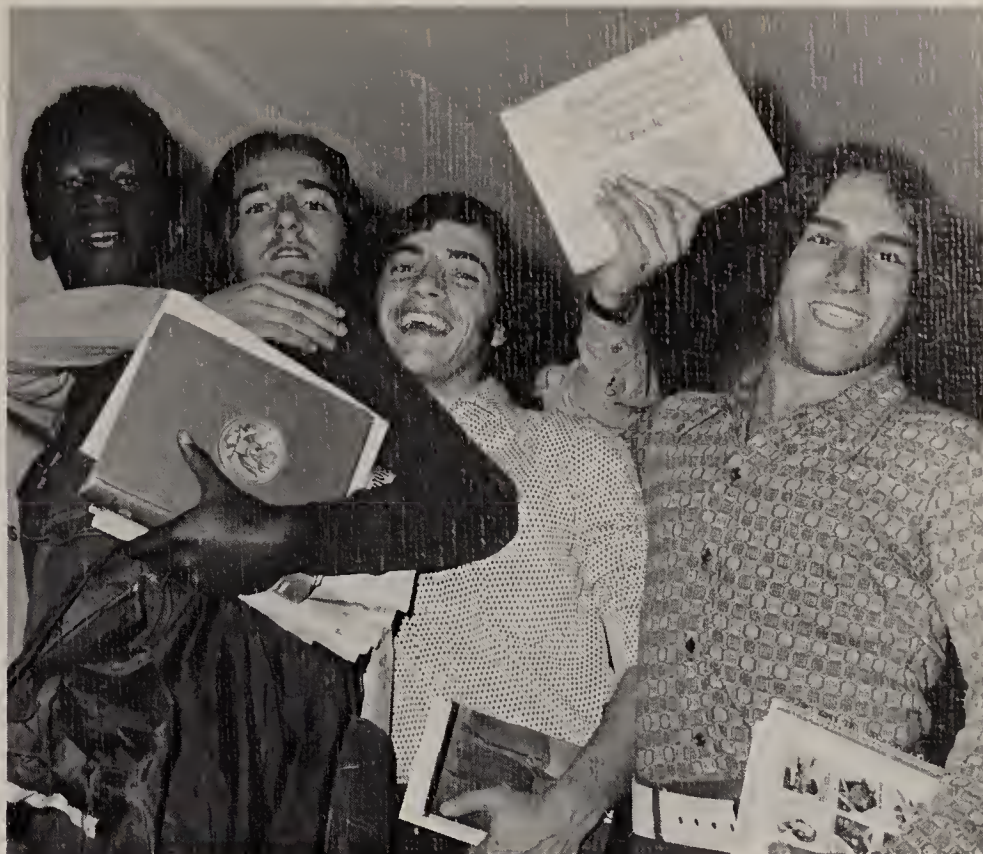

Cut it out, I love it!

Did you hear the one about...?

Does a Mercedes really Benz when it hits a wall?

Do you realize that you are going up the down staircase?

Is it kosher?

What do you mean, there is no Santa Claus!

It was this long and crawled into the office!

Look at that nut with the camera!

The Staple Sisters.

A stitch in time saves nine.

Derek shaved his moustache!

Boy, that night shift is tough!

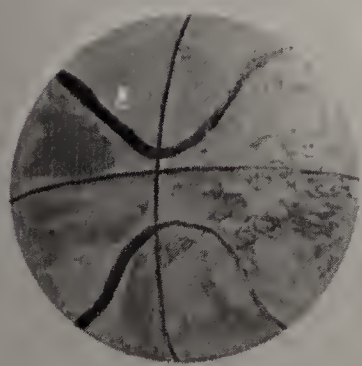

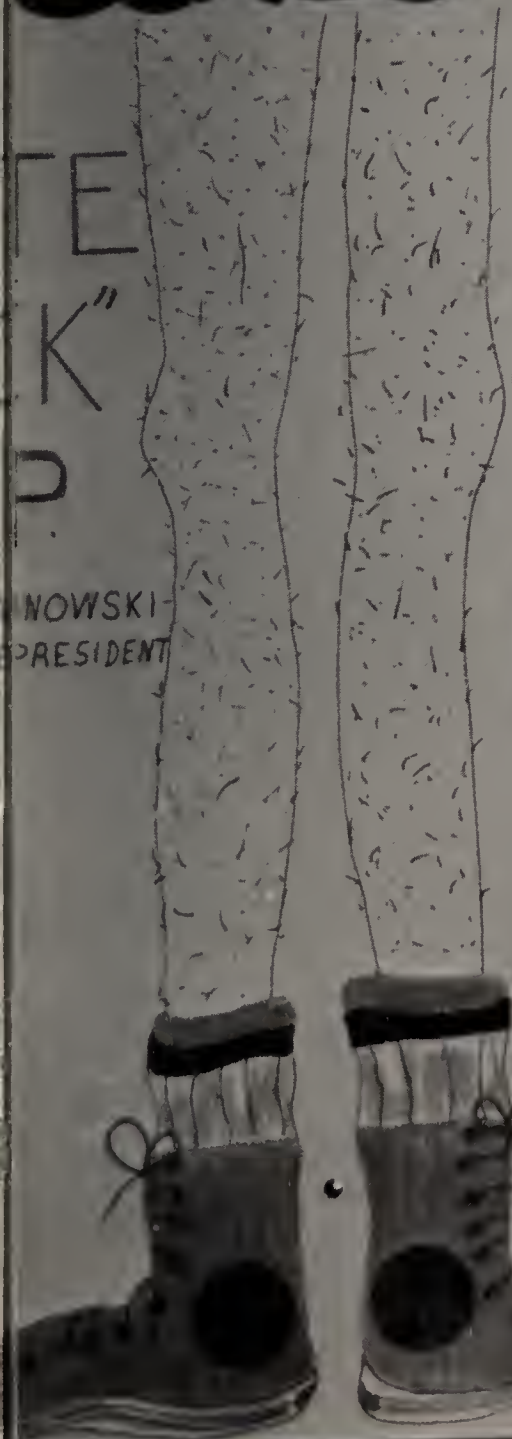

Two minutes and 3 mistakes already.

What's The ~~Story~~ ?

☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆☆

☆ At Chelsea High School, almost anybody can be in the gossip limelight. This is just a reminder of some of the scoops of 1974. The scoop is...

☆ DAVID BROWN finally decided to turn himself in to see if Danvers would deposit the $50 in his bank account.

☆ CHRIS ALBANO and ALEX RISEMAN have decided to go into the magazine business after graduation. It will include a color section of the latest style in clothing and a complete list of "Who's Who."

☆ SARA-JEAN ALPERT is deciding on a career of either training invisible dogs or coaching pro basketball. Rumor has it that she will do both; that is, train dogs in the off season.

☆ FRAN MORAN is planning his 1976 campaign for Mayor against MIKE ZULLO. It is heard that ZULLO wants MORAN out of the race and has made him an offer that he can't refuse.

☆ Police are trying to find DENISE DRISCOLL. They can't figure out if she's missing or just absent.

☆ JAY L. FREEDMAN, TOM MALINOWSKI, DANNY STASKIEWICZ, and MOOSE FRANCIS have been offered $500,000 for their controversial basketball picture. They don't know whether to take the money or repent for their action by buying the coach a copy of the record, "One More Chance."

☆ After so many months of aggravation from a certain yearbook advisor, SHERMAN DUBIN and STEVE SCHWARTZ have turned in their cameras and Excedrin headache #708 for a copy of the record, "You're Next."

☆ SUSAN BUCKLEY, who has stuck her foot in her mouth so many times, gave up talking for lent. Lent was over two months ago, Susan. Speak up!

☆ TOM HOGAN and STEVE WHALEN have finally opened their own bar and grill. They can't decide on a name, though. Rumor has it that it's down to two choices, either "The Fishing Club" or "Hockeytown U. S. A."

☆ While all worthy college candidates were receiving acceptances to schools, DONNA HARVEY was rejected by Perkins Institute. It is heard from reliable sources that the dean of the school reported she was beyond help.

☆☆ Speaking of college, C. H. S.'s own Larry Czonka, MIKE BARBOZA, has received offers from many reputable institutions of higher learning. He hasn't decided whether to continue his education and football career or to retire as the first Adonis of the Agganis Bowl.

☆☆ BRUCE BARTLETT, WAYNE IACOVIELLO, and RONNY DEMETRIO, the rock stars of C. H. S. 1974, have been approached by a certain record company to sign a contract for the next ten years. All three declined the offer saying that they would rather just "jam" through the next decade.

☆☆ All the candidates for the Couple of the Year Award have found themselves disqualified from the contest. DONNA FRANGIAMONE and ELLIOT KATZMAN were ousted when DONNA tripped ELLIOT while he was running the 300. SANDRA CARABINERIS and BOB LEONE were dropped when officials found out BOB made SANDRA fix a flat on his car during a snow storm. Last, but not least, DAVE SARTORELLI and THERESA MORAN were dropped when DAVE threw a crop-

Student Government Day

Adhering to the saying, "That government is best which governs least," we can safely say that our elected officials are doing a fantastic job. Performing their almost insurmountable duties, they have earned the envy of many of our nation's politicians who marvel at how so much can be accomplished with so little time and effort.

While the nation was battling with the energy crisis and Watergate, our student government busied itself with such crucial problems as the menu for the Inauguration and whether to hire the Allman Brothers or Guy Lombardo for the Ball. These issues had become burning issues throughout the high school, but our student government managed to come up with solutions.

With so many citizens complaining about the exorbitant taxes, the representatives had to resort to strong-arm tactics. So, at the end of the year we had many injured and impoverished taxpayers lacking in finances, but knowledgeable in the ways of democracy.

Chelsea: a closer look

Though old and tired and somewhat in need of rejuvenation, the streets of Chelsea somehow still have a tinge of vivacity that portrays each street's personality. When associated with its particular mark of recognition, identity of any street comes easily. Either paved, hot topped, or cobblestone the streets are the lifeline of Chelsea, a city small in area but big on tradition.

There is no reason for a resident of Chelsea to go outside our city for his wants or needs. Chelsea has a variety of buildings, stores, and restaurants that offer anything a person could possibly want or desire. Unique and convenient is the only way to describe the buildings and facilities of Chelsea.

Any inactive, indolent, inert, lazy, slothful, sluggish, trifling, or unemployed person looking for a place to idle has no problem in Chelsea. After all, what city would be complete without its local "hangouts"? Prattville, Mills, The Projects, Dick's, Quigley, Bossom, Polonia, The Church, Carter Park, Bellingham Square, The Corner, Crescent, The Home, Fifth Street, and Chelsea Square are the favorite meeting and resting spots in Chelsea. Whether a person is young or old, Chelsea has a talkspot just right for everyone. It's assuring to know that some of the less industrious citizens enjoy their city's "hangouts".

a day at Chelsea High

It looked extremely hopeless, when I started off the day;
I heard no snap or crackle-pop to get me underway.
To make my feelings very clear, I think I'd rather die;
For once again I'd have to face a Day at Chelsea High.

I'll take you through what I would call an average day of school;
Where readin' writin' 'n 'rithmetic make geniuses of fools.
It all begins at 8:05, this story I shall tell;
In homeroom I sit half asleep before the filing bell.

There's ease in my demeanor as I stroll the lengthy hall;
But once I reach those hectic stairs, I take a crushing fall.
Regaining my composure, I thank God I'm still alive;
I've learned that I must fight and claw if I am to survive.

In class, the teacher warns us we will have to do the work;
In confidence I sit back and listen with a smirk.
I know that I won't ever have to study for his test;
With help from trusty gyp-sheets, I'll score up among the best.

With a smile of new found courage, I find half the day is done;
But now in all reality, the worst has yet to come.
My stomach turns, the time has come, I'm ready for the punch;
The clock strikes twelve and now it's time to eat the School Bag Lunch.

It's just my luck that this one day should be the last of term;
And now I'd have the chance to see just how much I learned.
The smile has vanished from my face, my eyes reflect despair;
The grades I've earned this quarter are too much for me to bear.

Oh, somewhere in this Senior High the students surely know;
That after four years stay at Chelsea, to college they will go;
And somewhere students are assured the very best, no doubt;
But there's no hope for this poor soul--

One more flunkie has dropped out!

Custodial Comments

"The most unusual things about my job was finding a boy in the girls' room and finding three to four girls in one stall standing on the toilet hiding from me trying to get in their last drag of a cigarette." Jessie White

"While I was on guard duty, I had to leave for awhile and returning, I smelled something that has never smelled like that in the bathroom. I opened the door and to my surprise, one of the girls had lit a fire in the wastebasket. I struggled to put the fire out, but I never knew I was hired as a fireman." Elizabeth Sullivan

"As a janitor, I never thought I would have to clean up outside after the lunches, fill the girls' toilets with water when they run out, or run around like a chicken that just lost its head." Louis Antonelli

"The most unusual thing I found here is that there are good kids in this school." Joseph Dunn

"I didn't expect to have to babysit the girls that come into the bathroom." Dorothy Brosseau

"Being a basement pass is the most thankless job in the school system. I begin my day fresh and clean. I'm distributed to each teacher in the morning and from there I work nonstop until school is dismissed. I am almost as popular as lunch and holidays, and almost as much in demand as MAD Magazine. Huge lines form around me at the beginning of each period, and I become more bent, spindled and mutilated as the day wears on. You'd swear I was an autograph book with the amount of names scrawled across me. I retire at the end of the day barely in one piece, suffering from an acute case of smoke inhalation. If all my lines are covered with scrawly names, I'm permanently laid to rest. Otherwise, after days of recuperation, the six hour basement-go-round begins again until I finally earn my place in the world of recycling. Next time, maybe I'll just be a page on a calendar--June perhaps?"

Perhaps Chelsea is not as fashionable or modern as some of the young upstart cities known as suburbia, yet its sons and daughters will always fondly recall, "That's my hometown."

SPORTS

Red Devils

Asst. Coach Frank Herlihy, Co-Captain Brian Doyle, Co-Captain Roy Lettieri, Head Coach Joe Bever.

Lady Fortune did not shine too often on Joe Bever's boys this past season. Monsoon rains raised havoc with the schedule and the spirits of the team, co-captained by Roy Lettieri and Brian Doyle.

When the sun finally shone, bad bounces, occasional miscues and the curve ball continued the misfortune of the Red Devils.

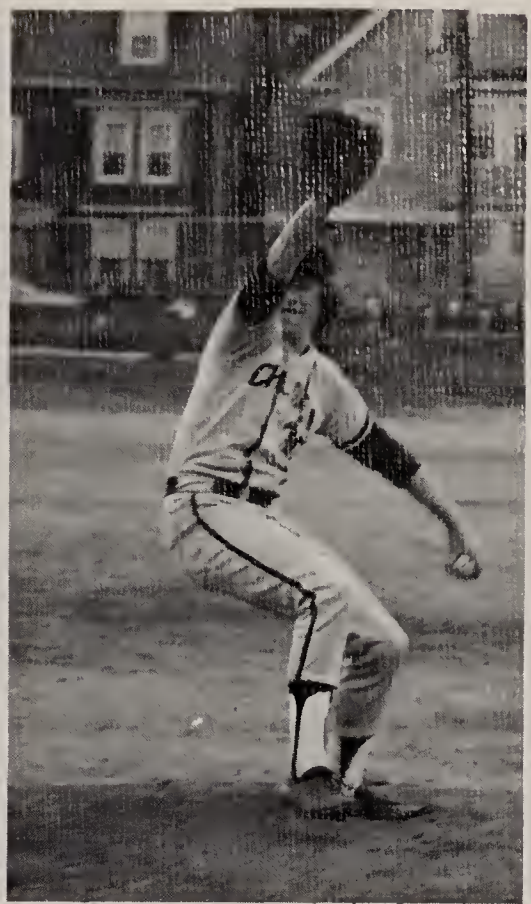

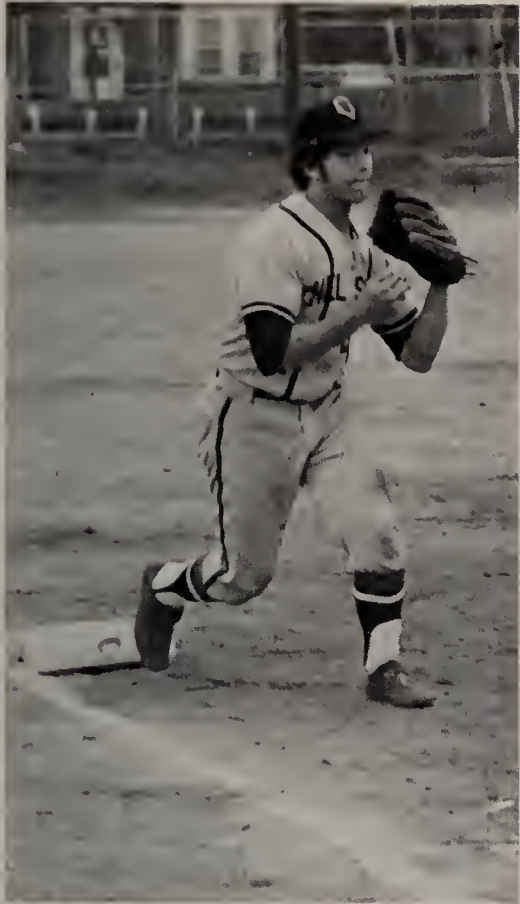

However, things turned much brighter with victories over Quincy and Everett. The pitching of Alex Riseman and Mike Darcy combined with the hitting of Michael Barboza, Roy Lettieri and Brian Doyle made for a winning combination.

No pennant flew over Chelsea High School, yet never was there a lack of pride and spirit.

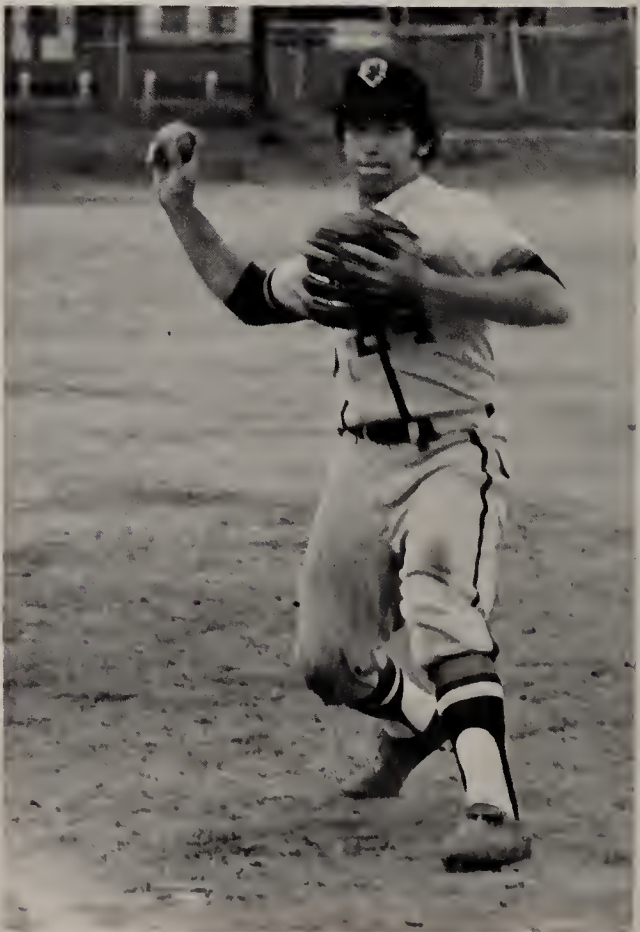

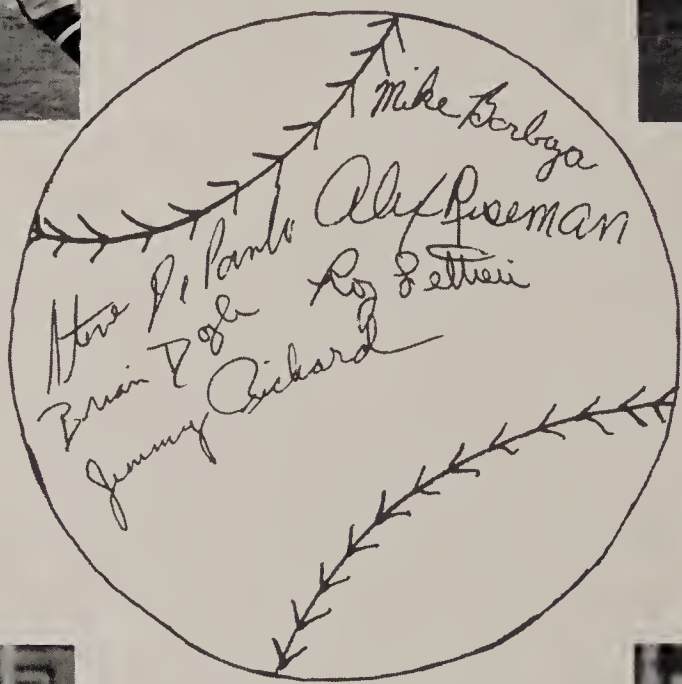

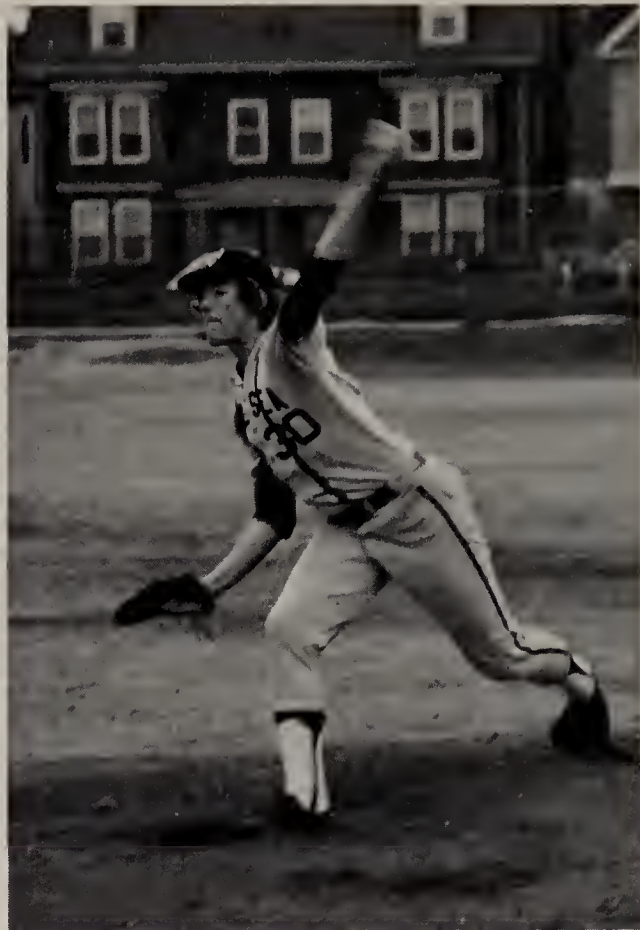

As with the Red Sox, there's always next year and those new, snazzy, knit uniforms.

Girls' Basketball

KNEELING: Eileen Pierce, Cheryl Thompson, Co-Captains. STANDING: Anita Sheinker, Debbie Murphy, Regina Sullivan, Carol Roache, Barbara Cameron.

Coach Connie Pike, Seniors Eileen Pierce, Sara Jean Alpert, Doreen Smith.

This year was a memorable one for the Chelsea High Girls' Basketball team. Coach Connie Pike assembled a spirited group of girls who made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in size. Led by seniors Sara Jean Alpert, Eileen Pierce, and Doreen Smith, the girls fought hard and proved tough competition for their opponents. Their efforts paid off in a thrilling win against the Chinese Y. M. C. A.

Although it was not a productive season in terms of wins, the girls learned much about teamwork and spirit which will hopefully lead to a winning season next year. These girls proved more than anything that it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game.

Basketball

The Red Devil Basketball team, under the tutelage of new coach Jack Niven, did an excellent job of adapting to a whole new system of offensive and defensive plays. In what was essentially a rebuilding year, there were many changes for the Devils. But as last years stars, Jay Freedman, Thomas Malinowski, Daniel Staskawicz, and William Francis departed, an entire new flock rose to lead the team. Starters Mark Feldman, Mike Wozniak, and freshman David Molloy showed the greatest improvement as the year progressed. This being the youngest varsity team ever--the future of the sport looks great.

Football

After a long and hard training camp under the direction of Coach Anthony Tiro and his staff, the Chelsea High School Eleven was ready for a winning season. Led by Tri-Captains Bubba, Hink, and Alex, the Devils handed Malden's Golden Tornadoes a loss for the second year in a row.

After that victory, the Devils began sharpening their pitchforks for Rindge Tech and sharpen them they did, for our mighty Eleven proceeded to roll to a stunning 44 to 8 victory over the Techmen. The 44 points represented the second highest amount of points in one year ever racked up by a CHS football team. It was Spinney to Staskiewicz for two quick scores, and then a strong and determined defensive wall kept Rindge Tech out of Chelsea's territory.

Coming off the field to the happy cheering of their devoted and long suffering fans along with the strains of "Stand Up and Cheer," the squad truly had earned the title, "Football Heroes."

Hockey

Who was it that rose each morning before dawn to practice on the ice? Who was it that risked pains and bruises amongst the slashing of sticks and screeching of skates? Who was it that slid into victory with his arms raised high in the air? Who was it that scrambled in the locker room making an effort to be in school before first period? And who was it that tried his best to win for the honor of our school? The C. H. S. Hockey Team, that's who.

Leading the Red Devil attack were co-captain Robert DeStefano and alternate captain Steve Whalen. Bulwark on defense were co-captain Mike Mahoney and Paul Goldberg whose valiant efforts resulted in a 4-0 shutout of North Quincy. John McPherson and Rick Smith came through on several occasions with the results being that Coach Yannetti's team provided some exciting action for its many rabid fans who shared the cold emptiness of the arena and the hazard of the travel to and from that ancient amphitheater.

Indoor Track

It's not very often that a Chelsea High School team combines both strength and depth, along with the will and determination, to shape themselves into a true competitor. For the Indoor Track season of 1974, though, all these ingredients were present, plus that little something extra, putting the Devils on the doorstep of a G.B.L. championship.

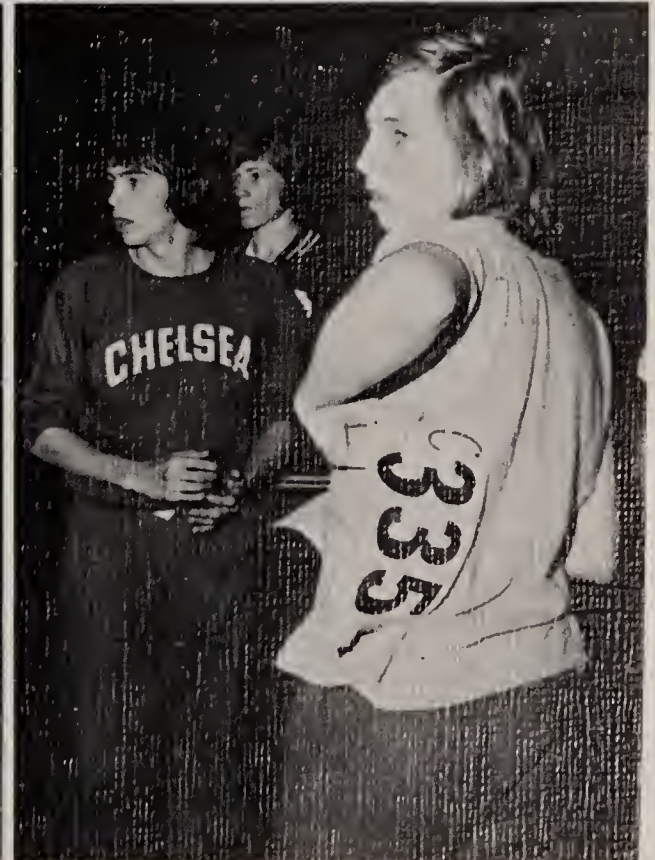

Chelsea's first two contests had them paired up against both defending league co-champions, Somerville and Revere. By first edging the powerful "Highlanders" 44-42, and next crushing the "Patriots" 57-29, they wasted no time in establishing their winning ways.

After a gruelling schedule, Chelsea placed second in their Greater Boston League action, and a 7-3 record overall. By showing lots of enthusiasm and a big measure of pride, they came within inches and seconds of the impossible dream--a G.B.L. title.

Co-Captain Elliot Katzman, Captain Steve DePaulo, Head Coach Wally Bavaro, Co-Captain Jim Richards.

Outdoor Track

The outdoor track team unfortunately suffered from a necessary ingredient for success, man power. Although the team captured more than their share of the first places, this did not often lead to meet victories, since the opposition with greater balance piled up points through second and third place finishes.

However, the wearers of the Red and Black still managed to savour some satisfying moments. A heartbreaking one point loss to powerful Revere was disappointing, yet had a morale boosting effect.

In the final meet determination, pride, and ability all came together in a smashing victory over traditional rival, Everett, by a score of 81 to 50.

Looking back on the season, Co-Captains Mark Feldman and Harvey Steinberg along with seniors Steve DePaulo, Jimmy Richard, Danny Staskiewicz, Jay L. Freedman, Robbie Von Handorf, and Elliot Katzman will have many fine moments to recall.

*Cross Country
Best Season
Ever
14 w — 2 l*

Just a few short years ago, Cross Country was an obscure and neglected sport. Compared to the prestige and popularity of football and basketball, it took a lowly back seat. It could be said that few, if any of the athletic following of Chelsea High School sports actually knew just what Cross Country was all about.

Through a sound program of summer training, practice and dedication, opponents of the Red Devil harriers began to take notice. Victories became more frequent. With them came more recognition and acclaim and still greater pride among the team members.

Now finally established as a power, Chelsea High's running Devils are still reaping the fruits of success. Under the leadership of Captain Steve DePaulo and Co-Captains Jimmy Richard and Mark Feldman, the team has produced the winningest record in the school's history. This year's combined total of fourteen wins versus only two losses is even more impressive than it looks. At their best they were a team well capable of challenging any opponent in this area.

Chelsea Cross Country has now made its distinct impression on the record books as well as on our High School Athletics.

PEP CLUB
Eileen Pierce and Karen Esseichick

Due to circumstances beyond our control, we were unable to include all of Chelsea High School's illustrious clubs. Among the unfortunates were the SKYDIVING CLUB. Of the original 26 members, the two survivors were under heavy sedation and were unable to sit for a club picture at the time. The GRAVEDIGGERS CLUB was busy caring for the remaining remains of the SKYDIVING CLUB and therefore, was also unavailable for the picture taking. Our efficient TRAIL-BLAZING CLUB never returned from their September hike through Chelsea and the RESCUE CLUB, which was sent to find them, sent postcards from Death Valley. As for our EXTREMISTS CLUB, all of its members were indefinitely suspended from school for setting the girls' pinochle team's uniforms on fire. The PINOCHLE CLUB girls, who were wearing the uniforms at the time, suffered third-degree burns and immediately changed their title to the SKIN-GRAFTING CLUB.

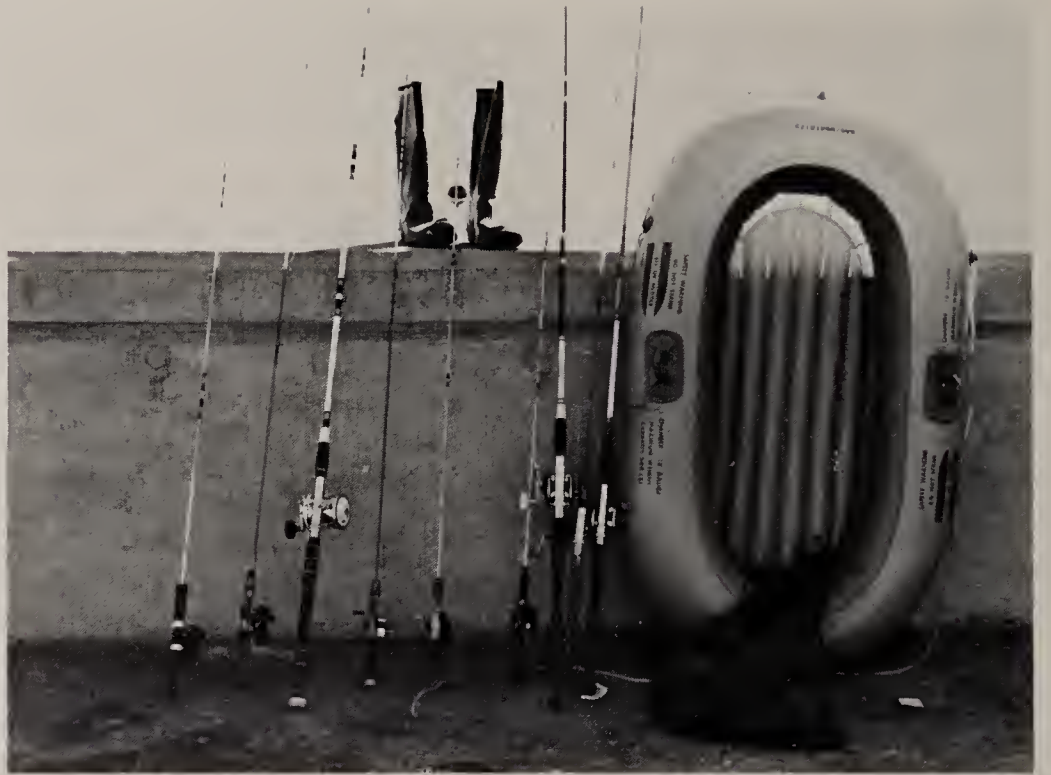

Fortunately, we were able to capture two of our newest clubs plus the industrious Beacon Staff. Turn the page and see the members doing their thing.

What About the One

The newest of all C.H.S. clubs is the Fishing Club. Its members include: President Thomas Hogan, Marie Murray, Mike Wilcox, Debbie McGauley, Steven Whalen, Theresa Moran, David Satorelli, Karen Esseichick, Mike Zullo, Susan Buckley, Donna Harvey, Dru-sella Welch, and Jean Gulizia.

This eager group of young Isaak Waltons spent the year learning the techniques of this sport: baiting a hook without mangling the worm and casting a line without catching themselves in the pants just to name a few. Their skill was practiced on weekend trips to Chelsea Creek, G.E. Bridge, and similar fishing resorts. This "infant" club is a welcome addition to the list of exciting clubs at Chelsea High School.

That Got Away?

Hat Club

The membership in the Hat Club swelled as the year went along. It seems students were passionately interested in learning the proper techniques of wearing a hat, as demonstrated by the famous but secretive "Mad-Hatter"--who prefers to remain nameless at this point.

The club conducted several seminars in camouflaging, decorating, storing, feeding, and watering your hat. Their main event of the year, a gay get-together in the recreation lounge across the street, was well attended with the members wearing their most prized hats. After the usual games and festivities, the famous Mexican Hat Dance was performed. It seems the participants had become so attached to their hats though, that they didn't put them on the floor in the usual manner. The "Mad-Hatter," who bet that they would, was forced to eat his hat and that's why he's hatless in the picture.

Beacon

The most exciting experience of a student's life, besides being born with a full set of teeth, is being a member of the Beacon staff. In order to qualify for this honor, a hopeful must have a medical examination and no previous record of nervous breakdowns.

The highest position of the yearbook staff is editor. The person who fills this job must have the insensitivity of a corpse. Despite the requirements, we picked Karen Esseichick.

The remaining members are divided into three groups: the Writing Staff, whose requirements include writing English fluently and passing the Rhinehart method; the Layout Staff, which crops and arranges the pictures, must have expertise in the handling of a ruler and should have a pretty good idea of how to draw a straight line; the Business Staff is responsible for bringing in the ads and wellwishers. Failure means finding their names on the "In Memoriam" page. Last, but by all means not least, there are the photographers. The two on our staff have acquired such fame that they've put the little old man on Fourth Street to shame.

Under the leadership of Sumner Bloom, who specializes in used jokes and posing people for candids, the Beacon Staff, nerves frazzled, yet with heads held high, met their deadlines (the most hated word ever uttered).

Dinner Dance

The elegant Chateau de Ville was the scene of this year's memorable Dinner Dance. About 75 couples, attired in their best finery, danced the night away, only pausing to enjoy a delectable roast beef dinner.

The beautifully decorated Riviera Suite reverberated with the rock and slow sounds of the day, as the dancers crowded the floor to "boogie."

An added attraction was the unscheduled performance of the Gay Squad who did their terpsichorean interpretation of that old favorite LOVE. They were loudly applauded and appreciated by their classmates.

At the stroke of midnight, the Cinderellas and their Prince Charmings wiped a tear from their faces as the last strains of the music were heard in the background.

1906 Revisited

How can the 1974 Yearbook forget the Great Chelsea Fire of Sunday, October 14, 1973? It was just after 4:00 p. m. on October 14, that the relative calm of a Sunday afternoon was interrupted by the sounds of fire sirens. Before long many more horns could be heard screaming through the city as the smoke in the southern sky began to spread and become ever darker. An area in the southwest portion of the city was on fire and that blaze was raging out of control. It was only a matter of hours before flames had completely gutted more than twenty city blocks.

When all was over there was miraculously not a single instance of death and relatively few injuries during this catastrophe. However, hundreds of people were made homeless, many others were out of business, and there were millions of dollars in damage.

The victims of Chelsea's second great conflagration were aided by members of this years' graduating class, who gave freely of their time and effort.

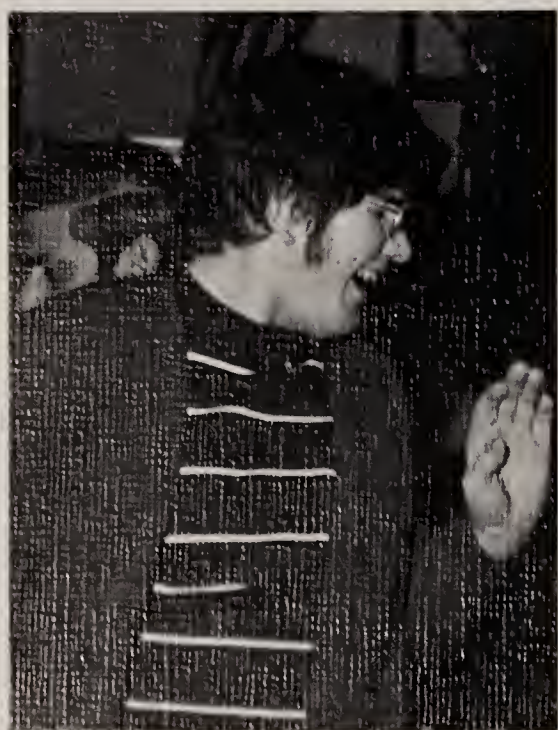

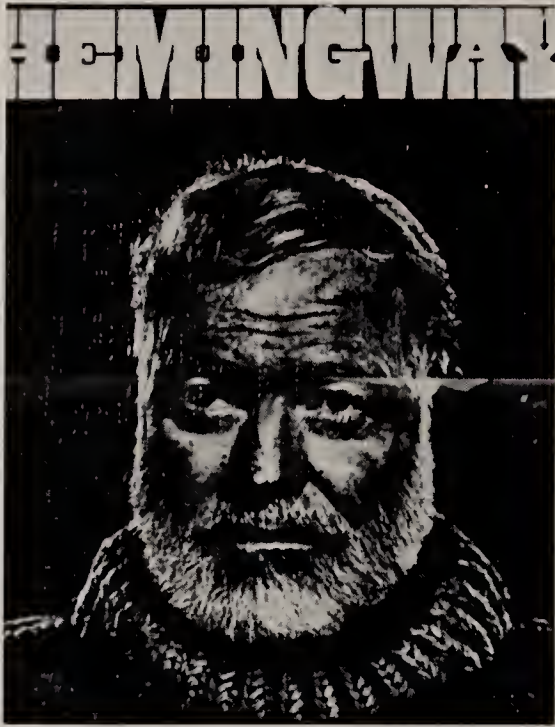

Now we are confident that Chelsea will rise from the ashes to again become a viable and progressive community.

Faculty-Varsity Hockey Game

The opening face-off between the Faculty and Varsity had acting-headmaster Joseph Moran at center ice dropping the puck between opposing team coaches, Robert De Stefano and "Cookie" Taczuk. The varsity squad was hard put to keep up with the deceptively talented teachers; including "Vicious" Vinny Apruzzese, "Cheap Shot" Joe Mauro, and Shelly "the Rocket" Greenglass.

The ruggedly fought fray ended in a 5-5 tie. First star went to Ed Connolly for his four goal performance, and second and third stars went to Ed Rosa and Stu Fineberg for managing to skate without the aid of the boards.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people with all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

*Memories like the corners of my mind,
Misty water-colored memories
Of the way we were.
Scattered pictures
Of the smiles we left behind;
Smiles we gave to one another
For the way we were.
Can it be that it was all so simple then,
Or has time rewritten every line?
If we had the chance to do it all again,
Tell me, would we? Could we?
Memories may be beautiful and yet,
What's too painful to remember
We simply choose to forget.
So it's the laughter we will remember
Whenever we remember
The way we were.*
